ASU — one of the top universities in the world
We asked current ASU students, “What is your favorite thing about being a student at ASU at Lake Havasu?”

“The close-knit community due to the size of the campus. The majority of the students know each other and the professors know all of their students on a first-name basis.”
Derrick Lessor
Hometown: Iron Mountain, Michigan
Major: business (communication)

“I truly feel like I have a family here. Everyone here is unique and we all love to be around each other.”
Alberta Abram
Hometown: Lake Havasu City, Arizona
Major: organizational leadership

“The professors are extremely supportive and accessible, which makes it easier to fully understand my courses.”
Cortez Croney
Hometown: Los Angeles, California
Major: communication

“The opportunities I have received from being involved with the Outdoor Pursuits organization.”
Cortney Easton
Hometown: Blooming Prairie, Minnesota

Four years at ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City isn’t like four years at any other college.

Along with earning an ASU degree that can take you anywhere you want to go, you’ll gain something just as valuable: real-world experience.

With the complete support of your professors and the Lake Havasu City community, you’ll learn by doing. Rather than just reading about water chemistry in a book, you’ll go to the lake and take water samples yourself. Instead of learning criminology solely from lectures, you’ll actually work with local law enforcement.

My Havasu Plan
Check out what four years of hands-on learning at ASU at Lake Havasu looks like:

Freshman year
Work with community members and local organizations on your Freshman Experience Project, which you’ll complete at the end of your first year. Past projects have provided students with opportunities to work directly with the Marine Association, Arizona State Parks, the Partnership for Economic Development, the Chamber of Commerce and the Bureau of Land Management.

Junior year
Start working alongside a professor on a meaningful hands-on research project and discover something new that no one ever knew before. Apply your learning in the field by completing an internship that inspires you. Your experience will set you apart in the job market.

Sophomore year
Gain work experience, start building your resume and make contacts. Get more involved in a club dedicated to something you’re passionate about or one devoted to something you’ve never tried before. Either way, you’ll make friends, have fun and learn a lot. You can even start your own student club.

Senior year
Use all the skills you’ve learned over the past four years to construct your capstone project, an in-depth paper that tackles a question or problem of your choice.

You can have top quality without paying top price.

You don’t have to choose between an outstanding education and an affordable tuition — at ASU you get both. ASU is the only university in Arizona to be named both:

A top world university

Financial aid programs for Arizona residents

The Obama Scholars Program is open to qualifying Arizona high school graduates who lack family resources to afford higher education. The program covers tuition and mandatory fees, with allowances for housing, meals, books and supplies for four consecutive years. For requirements, visit students.asu.edu/obama.

Costs shown are estimated average costs for new full-time undergraduate students at ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City for the 2015–2016 academic year. Personal expenses vary. The average student spends $3,358 annually (i.e., nine months) on things like a cell phone, transportation, etc.

Applying for financial aid

For most types of financial aid, you’ll need to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Some financial aid is disbursed on a first-come, first-served basis — so don’t delay. The FAFSA opens Jan. 1 of each year. Submit your FAFSA before ASU’s priority filing date of March 1 each year to maximize the amount of aid you receive. ASU’s Federal School Code is 001081. Apply online at fafsa.ed.gov.

Transfer admission standards

A student must meet one of the following requirements for consideration as a transfer applicant; graduated from high school, earned a GED with a score of 500+, or completed an associate degree or be in progress toward an associate degree. Information for assured admission and individual review for admission is below.

Assured admission standards for transfer students

Arizona residents must meet one of the following requirements:

- completion of an associate degree with a 2.00 or higher cumulative GPA*
- Arizona General Education Curriculum (AGEC) with a 2.50 or higher cumulative GPA*

Nonresidents must meet one of the following requirements:

- completion of an associate degree with a 2.50 or higher cumulative GPA*
- AGEC with a 2.50 or higher cumulative GPA* (For those students transferred from a California community college, ASU accepts the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum/California State University General Education patterns.)

Transfer individual review

Students who do not meet ASU’s assured admission criteria may be considered through the individual review process. Admission Services will review all available information about a student’s application, carefully considering all aspects of a student’s academic background and accomplishments. In these cases, additional information might be requested.

Students transferring with 24 or more transferable credits

Students with 24 or more transferable credit hours and a minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA* are given serious consideration through the individual review process.

Students transferring with fewer than 24 transferable credits

Students with fewer than 24 transferable credit hours must have a minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA* in all transfer hours and must meet the freshman aptitude requirement to be considered through the individual review process.

International admission standards

Freshman international students must have a 3.00 or higher cumulative GPA* from a secondary school.

English language proficiency requirement

The English language proficiency requirement may be fulfilled by one of the following:

- Internet-based TOEFL: 61
- IELTS: 6.0 with no band below 5.5
- PTE: 53

*GPAs are based on a 4.00 = "A" scale.

Havasu housing

Our new on-campus residence hall features single- and double-occupancy rooms with Wi-Fi, cable and laundry facilities. Being steps away from campus resources, classrooms and professors means your day-to-day interactions will be more enriching and your educational experience more fulfilling. ASU expects first-time freshmen to live on campus and guarantees housing to them.

The Lake Havasu Hall is also next to the new fitness center. You can take a break from your studies and recharge with a weight or cardio workout.

Transfer housing

Transfer students are highly encouraged to live on campus to connect with their college community and enjoy opportunities to meet others, get involved and develop leadership skills.

To apply

Visit housing.asu.edu to start the application process.
Life beyond the classroom
